website as tool

yasmin ahram

concept

website that promotes abstract art and the fact that everyone can be an artist given the right tools.

start white background.

each mouse click generates a new shape that falls in place at bottom of screen in new color.

shape, size and color are randomized.

at each site visit, each person will have created their own colorful pile of shapes.
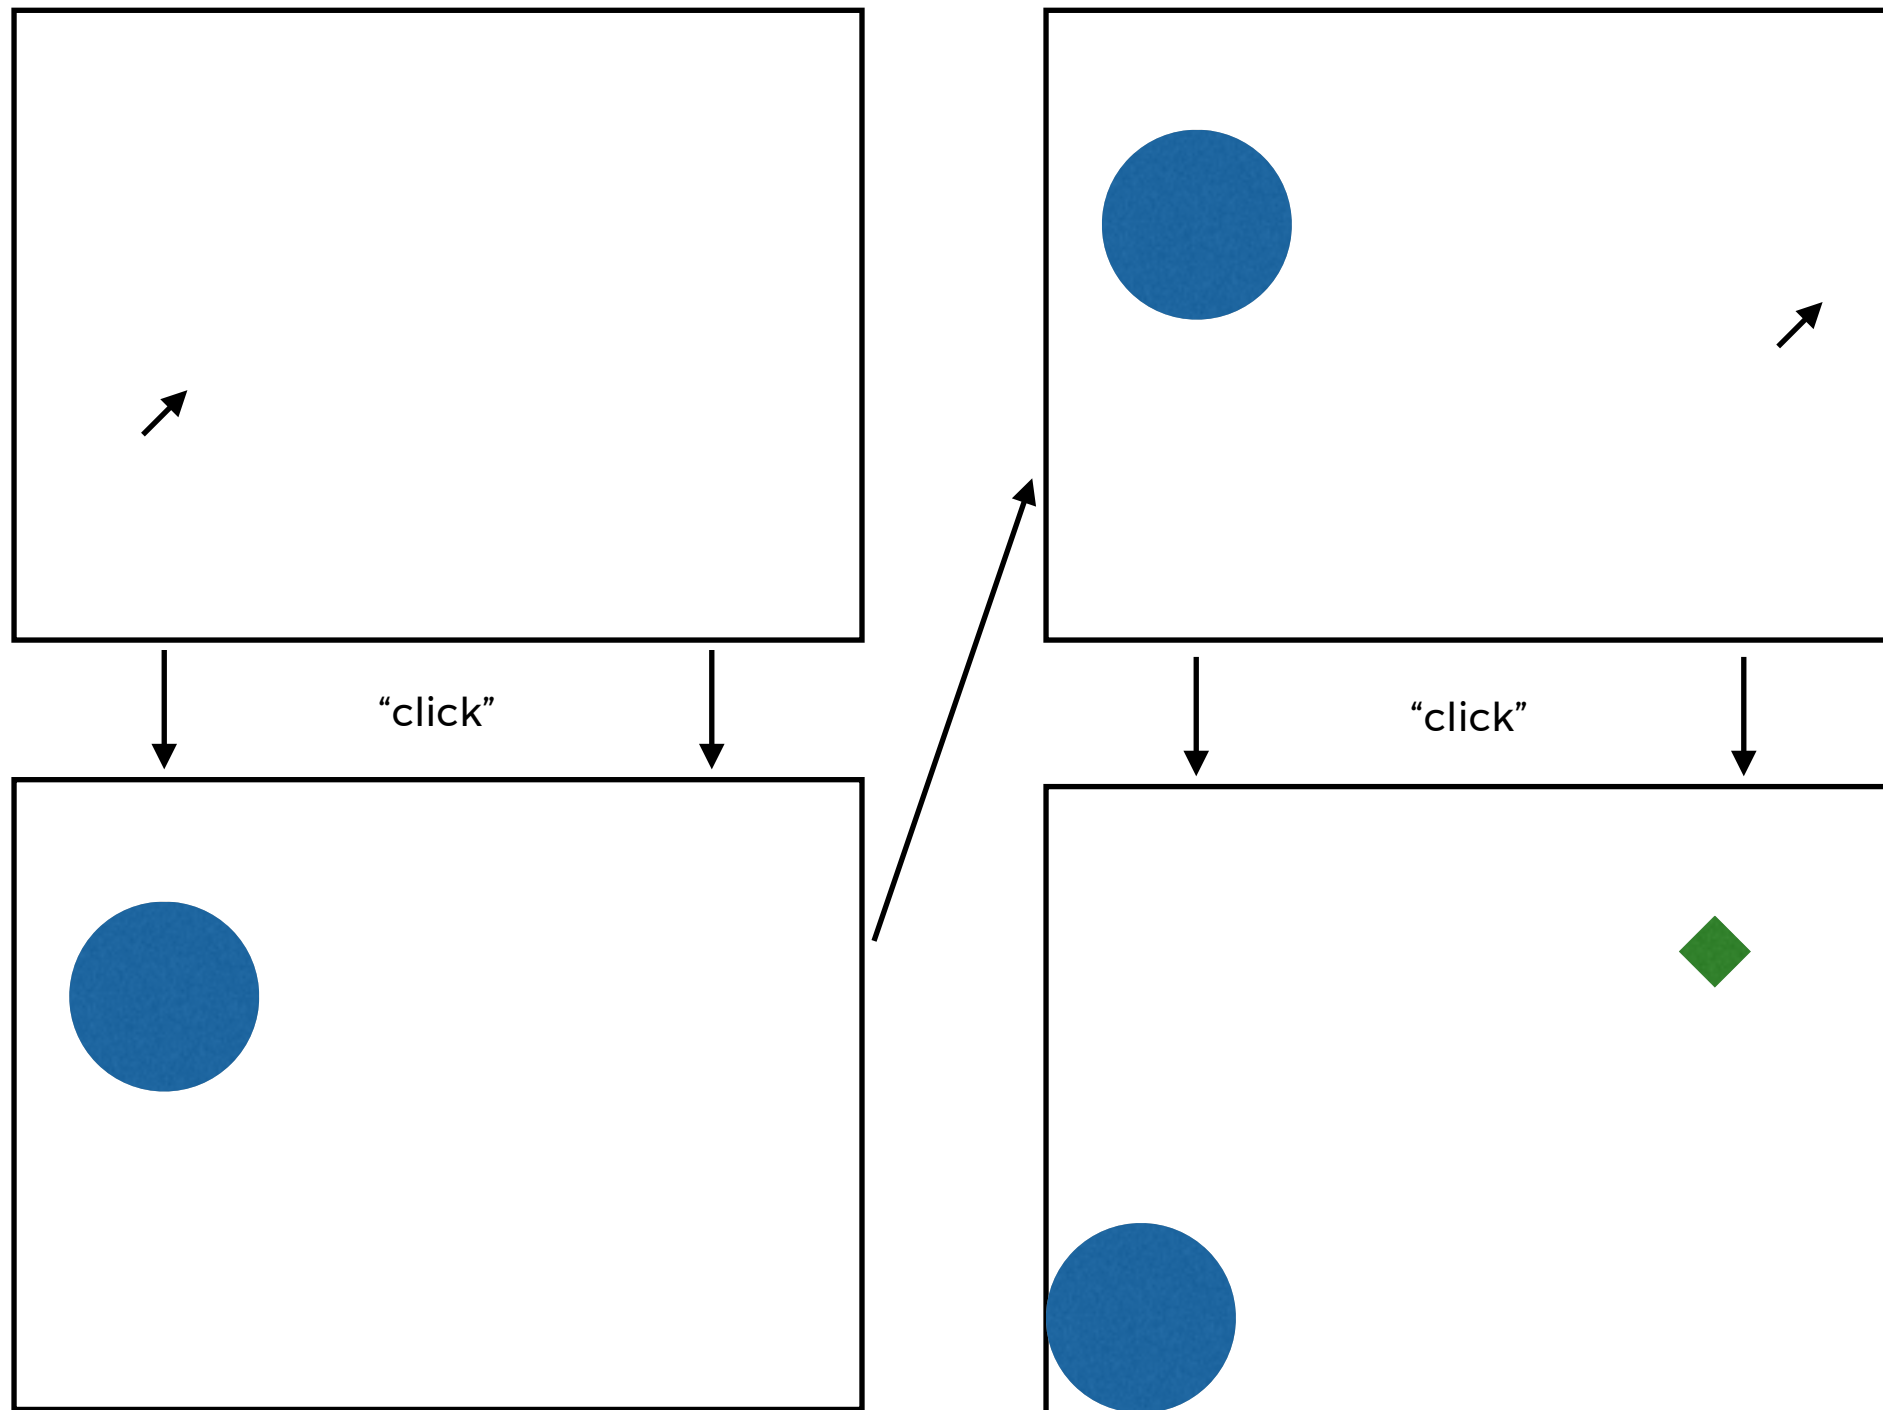

input

mouse-click

output

a shape of a randomized shape, size and color

references

wireframes

"click"

"click"

ta-da